The Canterbury Voices is a female chamber choir from Canterbury in the UK. Members of the ensemble include staff, students, and alumni from the school of music and performing arts at Canterbury Christ Church University, as well as musicians from the Canterbury area and members of local community of choirs. The group aims to provide a bridge between the university and the local community of musicians. We enjoy a wide range of repertoire from madrigals to female barbershop and perform regularly in the UK and Northern Europe. The ensemble is managed and directed by singing teacher, Kerry Boyle.
